WASHINGTON, D.C. – The ADAP Advocacy Association today released its 2021 Annual Report – which highlights the organization’s ongoing commitment to access, information and participation for patient advocacy designed to promote and protect the AIDS Drug Assistance Program (“ADAP”). The report is shared using an infographic format to capture the previous year’s highlights.

“HIV advocacy during the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic continues to change, mature, and respond to the changing public health dynamics,” summarized Brandon M. Macsata, CEO of the ADAP Advocacy Association. “Our focus remains on how the intersection between HIV and Covid-19 impacts marginalized communities, including long-term survivors, LGBTQ communities, African-Americans and Latino/Hispanic Americans.”

Macsata further stated that the organization consistently fields questions from people living with HIV trying to make heads or tails over Covid-19 vaccinations. A cornerstone of the ADAP Advocacy Association’s advocacy last year centered around its #YourVaccineIsWaiting public awareness campaign.
